Let's Start!

It's time to surprise Vanessa!

Learning Outcome

Describe characteristics of different people and their jobs.

Ask your partner:

- Do you ever surprise your friends?
What did you do?
- Do you cook for your friends?

Can Do Statements

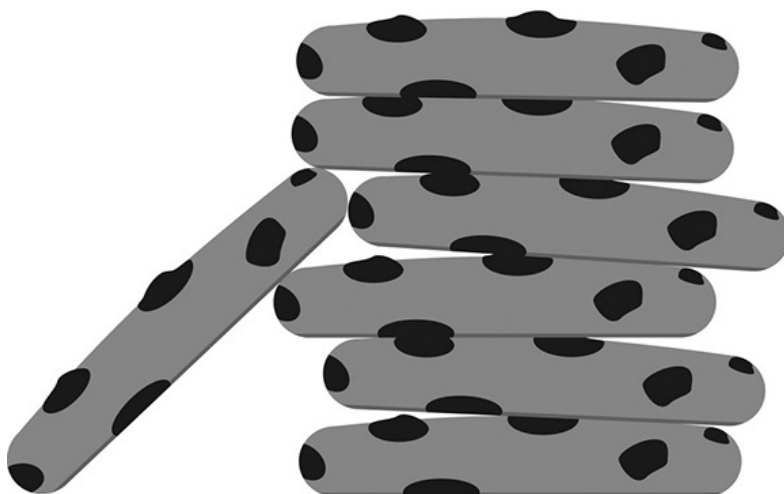

- I can talk about food and drinks.
- I can use words to describe general quantities.
- I can talk about hypothetical actions and events in the future.

Let's Explore!

Marco has a surprise for Vanessa. What is it?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Vanessa: Marco! What are you doing here?
Marco: If I say I was in the area, will you believe me?
Vanessa: I might believe you if you show me what's inside your bag.
Marco: When you invite me in, I may show you.
Vanessa: Sorry, come in!
Marco: Thanks.
Vanessa: Did you go grocery shopping? It looks like you got plenty of groceries.
Marco: No ... but I have something for you.
Vanessa: For me?
Marco: Yeah, remember when I said I'd cook for you? I made you veal marsala.
Vanessa: Aw, Marco!
Marco: Before you try it, you'll have to get some milk. It's spicy! I made you my famous chocolate chip oatmeal raisin cookies too. I think there might be fewer chocolate chips than raisins though. Sorry.
Vanessa: You're spoiling me! I definitely think there are enough chocolate chips in here.
Marco: Good. I had a box of caramels too, but I ate them on the way over.

Let's Practice!

What items did Marco bring over?

Instructions: Draw a line from the word on the left to the picture on the right.

1. oatmeal
2. veal marsala
3. chocolate chips
4. raisins
5. caramels
6. milk

Let's Practice!

Learning Points

The First Conditional

You can use the first conditional to talk about actions and situations in the future.

There are two parts to the sentence.

One part is the condition. The other part is the result.

Form:

If + subject + Simple Present tense + subject + will/may/might

You use a comma after the condition in this form.

Condition	Result
If you want to find out,	you'll have to come back tomorrow.

You can change the two parts of the sentence so that the result comes first.

Result	Condition
I might believe you	if you show me what's inside.

Learning Points

Quantifiers

You use a quantifier before a noun to indicate the amount or number of an item.

You use quantifiers with both count and non-count nouns.

You can use all of the quantifiers below with both count and non-count nouns.

Quantifier	Meaning
more	a larger number/amount
less/fewer	a smaller number/amount
no/none	0, nothing
any/not any	ask about a number or amount/say there is no
some	a small number/amount
a lot of/lots of	a very large number/amount
plenty of	more than you need
enough	as much as you need

Examples:

- Did you buy enough groceries?
- I don't see any eggs in here.
- I may buy more bread.
